Pont suspendu de Randa

Longueur	5.91 km

Alt. min/max	1'439 m/2'090 m

Start

From the village of Randa follow the signs «Europahütte - Hangebrücke». The normal route follows the left bank of the Dorfbächji valley. For the downhill follow Randa Dorf.

Practical information

In view of the fact that the construction is famous and is the longest suspension bridge in Europe, this route is very popular. The slope to reach the suspension bridge is important. If you prefer to climb steep slopes and go down a less steep path, follow the route in the opposite direction of the normal route. That is to say that you go up by the right bank and go down by the left bank. Whatever the chosen route, the final altitude difference is the same. If you go up the right bank, the blue and white signs indicate the route after the bridge for the Domhütte
